1. Policy Content

All personnel carrying out their duties with regard to all liability products should ensure that they comply with the requirements of this policy. In addition to this, all such personnel should also ensure that they refer this policy (including subsequent amendments there to) so that they are able to maintain compliance to its requirements.

For Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) regarding the policies please refer to Appendix I.

With reference to the RBI guidelines detailed in the following policies will be followed by Fincare Small Finance Bank:

1.1. Objective

The objective of the policy is to provide guidance around following aspects:

- To outline the guiding principles in respect of formulation of various deposit products offered by the Bank and terms and conditions governing the conduct of the account.
- To recognise the rights of depositors and aims at dissemination of information with regard to various aspects of acceptance of deposits from the members of the public, conduct and operations of various deposits accounts, payment of interest on various deposit accounts, closure of deposit accounts, method of disposal of deposits of deceased depositors, etc., for the benefit of customers.
- To impart greater transparency in dealing with the individual customers and create awareness among customers of their rights.
- To ensure customer get services they are rightfully entitled to receive without demand.
- To recognize rights of common depositor.

1.2. Preamble

- One of the important functions of the Bank is to accept deposits from the public for the purpose of lending. The depositors and their interests form the key area of the regulatory framework for banking in India and this has been enshrined in the Banking Regulation Act, 1949.
- The Reserve Bank of India is empowered to issue directives / advices on interest rates on deposits and other aspects regarding conduct of deposit accounts from time to time.
- With liberalization in the financial system and deregulation of interest rates, banks are now free to formulate deposit products within the broad guidelines issued by RBI.
- This policy document on deposits outlines the guiding principles in respect of formulation of various deposit products offered by the Bank and terms and conditions governing the conduct of the account.
- The document recognises the rights of depositors and aims at dissemination of information with regard to various aspects of acceptance of deposits from the members of the public, conduct and operations of various deposit accounts, payment of interest on various deposit accounts, closure of deposit accounts, method of disposal of deposits of deceased depositors, etc., for the benefit of customers.
- It is expected that this document will impart greater transparency in dealing with the individual customers and create awareness among customers of their rights. The ultimate objective is that the customer will get services they are rightfully entitled to receive without demand.
- This document is a broad framework under which the rights of common depositors are recognized.

- While adopting this policy the Bank re-iterates its commitments to the individual customers as outlined in the Code of Bank's Commitment to Customers.

1.3. Types of Deposit Accounts

While various deposit products offered by the Bank are assigned different names, the deposit products can be broadly categorized into the following types. Definition of major deposit schemes are as under: -

- "Demand Deposits" means a deposit received by the Bank which is withdrawable on demand;

- However, in the case of death of the depositor after the date of maturity of the deposit, the bank shall pay interest at savings deposit rate prevailing on the date of maturity from the date of maturity till the date of payment.

1.18. Insurance cover for deposits

All bank deposits are covered under the insurance scheme offered by Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation of India (DICGC) subject to certain limits and conditions. The details of the insurance cover in force, will be made available to the depositor as and when requested.

The DICGC insures all deposits such as savings, fixed, current, recurring, etc. deposits except the following types of deposits

- Deposits of foreign Governments
- Deposits of Central/State Governments
- Inter-bank deposits
- Deposits of the State Land Development Banks with the State co-operative bank
- Any amount due on account of and deposit received outside India
- Any amount, which has been specifically exempted by the corporation with the previous approval of Reserve Bank of India

Each depositor in a bank is insured up to a maximum of Rs.1, 00,000 (Rupees One Lakh) for both principal and interest amount held by him in the same right and same capacity.

For example, if an individual had an account with a principal amount of Rs. 95,000 plus accrued interest of Rs. 4,000, the total amount insured by the DICGC will be Rs. 99,000. If, however, the principal amount in that account was Rs. One lakh, the accrued interest will not be insured, not because it was interest but because that was the amount over the insurance limit.

The deposits kept in different branches of a bank are aggregated for the purpose of insurance cover and a maximum amount up to Rupees one lakh is paid.

1.19. Stop Payment Facility

The Bank will accept stop payment instruction from the depositors in respect of cheques issued by them. Charges, as specified, will be recovered. Charges shall be mentioned as a part of the Schedule of Charges.
